

Do you sponsor a clinical research project in Belgium ? Are you looking for collaboration or partnership ?

The CHU Brugmann is a university institution, and clinical research, whether academic or industry sponsored, is therefore one of its main missions. Our clinical research unit is there to coordinate all research aspects.

Specifically, the competences found in clinical research unit are :

- dedicated regulatory support
- experienced study coordinators and research nurses
- medical consultancy with clinical research expertise
- methodological and statistical support
- global coordination ensuring operational oversight, including all administrative aspects

The unit organizes the conduct of clinical research projects in collaboration with the principal investigator from the start of the study to its completion. In particular, it coordinates all interactions for contractual/financial aspects as well as for the participation of the pharmacy (there is a team dedicated to clinical research) and medical-technical services. The study coordinators work with the investigators and sponsors throughout the study. Medical consultants with an expertise in clinical research are also available.

The unit has the infrastructure to accommodate patients and the equipment to process the samples needed for the study to run smoothly.

How to contact us?

If you do not know a potential investigator, you can send an email to urc@chu-brugmann.be and we will contact the clinical departments that may be interested. You can also contact us by phone (+ 32 2 477 33 06).

If you have already identified a potential investigator, contact him/her directly, preferably copying in our unit (at the same address).

Together, we can assess the feasibility of collaboration and answer any questions you may have about the institution, our clinical research unit, our procedures and the support we can provide.
